

5 Simple Words Photo Series:

Students will capture a series of photographs that visually define the following words: alive, blue, peeling, edible, and soft.

Important things to consider:

- Consider each word and how as a photographer you can define the word in a unique way. How can you creatively interrupt each word?
- Consider photography aesthetic principals that have been covered over the course of the last few weeks. For example: leading lines, different angles (aerial, side, or low), rule of thirds, frame within the frame, etc..

Students will submit 5 final photographs for their 5 Simple Words Photo Series to Schoology for grading.

- Final photo series images must be labeled in the following fashion: NameAlive, NameBlue, NamePeeling, etc.
- Practice images do not have to be individually labeled, but they do need to be uploaded into the shared Google Drive; create a folder titled 5 Simple Words.

IMPORTANT:

Prior planning and photographic thought should be evident in your submitted images for this photo series!

THESE PHOTOS ARE NOT JUST QUICK SNAPSHOTS YOU TOOK WITHIN THE CLASSROOM ON THE PHOTO SERIES DUE DATE.

This series of images should be the best you have captured yet this semester! Be sure to achieve an evenly exposed photo each time. As a photographer it is your responsibility to ensure you have proper lighting; it is also up to you to be sure you do not have a distracting surrounding/background - you should always be thinking about what is filling your frame. Finally, remember the photo composition tips that have been presented over the last weeks in class - these will support you in making your photography more dynamic.
